Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 1, 3-4, 16-18, 20, 22-24, and 26-27 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The primary reasons for the allowance of claims number are the inclusion of the limitation in the claims, which are not found in the prior art references. The inclusion of the subject matter of assigning each authorized user with a unique authorized "user ID" and an authorized "user PIN" that is different from the "patient identifier" and the "patient PIN." This along with further limitations set forth by the claims render the application allowable over the prior art(s) of record.

2. The most remarkable prior arts of record are as follows:

- a. Hacker – U.S. Patent No. 6,988,075

- b. Mandl, et al. "Public standards and patients' control: how to keep electronic medical records accessible but private · Commentary: Open approaches to electronic patient records · Commentary: A patient's viewpoint." BMJ, Feb. 2001; 322: pp. 283-287.

- c. Felsher – U.S. Publication No. 2002/0010679

3. Hacker teaches the "patient identifier" and the "patient PIN," but fails to teach assigning each authorized user with a unique authorized "user ID" and an authorized "user PIN" that is different from the "patient identifier" and the "patient PIN."

4. Mandl teaches

5. Felsher teaches
